

ROOSEVELT CARRIES SOUTH DAKOTA

Colonel's Plurality Estimated at 10,000 to 12,000 on Returns From 116 Scattered Precincts

THE DEFEAT OF SENATOR GAMBLE INDICATED

Taft Ran Third in Some Places and Led La Follette in Others—Taft Captures Ohio's Six Delegates-at-Large and Roosevelt Denounces Convention's Action as "Political Brigandage"—"Harmony Special" on Way to Chicago.

Pierre, S. D., June 4.—Roosevelt carried the South Dakota primaries today by a substantial plurality, according to the claims of the Roosevelt headquarters in Pierre tonight. No figures were given to prove the assertion, as returns are scattering and slow.

All Returns Indicate Roosevelt Victory

All the figures on the voting revealed thus far indicate a victory for Roosevelt. In some places Taft ran third, with La Follette second, while in others Taft was nearly even with Roosevelt, with La Follette third.

Plurality Estimated at 10,000 to 12,000.

The Argus Leader of Sioux Falls on returns received from 116 scattered precincts estimated that Roosevelt will have 10,000 to 12,000 plurality in the state and that Thomas Sterling has probably defeated Senator Gamble for senator.

"THE HARMONY SPECIAL"

Car Bearing Both Taft and Roosevelt Leaders on Way to Chicago.

New York, June 4.—The main advance on Chicago of republican leaders from the eastern states got under way this afternoon, when a special car attached to the Twentieth Century Limited, bearing both Taft and Roosevelt leaders, left for the convention city. The leaders jokingly called their car "The Harmony Special." Senator Dixon of Montana left for Chicago on the Pennsylvania special.

Those aboard the special car were National Committeeman William L. Ward of New York, National Committeeman Charles E. Brooker of Connecticut, National Committeeman T. Coleman duPont of Delaware, Judge Charles Duell, chairman of the Roosevelt city committee, and others. The car was piloted by a wealthy New Orleans banker living on Fifth avenue, who has been actively at work among the maids during the past few days.

HOTEL CHAMBERMAIDS JOIN STRIKING WAITERS

Some of the Strikers Said to Have Sought Reinstatement.

New York, June 4.—The threat of the striking waiters to carry the war into other branches of hotel employment began to be realized today when ten chambermaids walked out of the Hotel Imperial, marched up Broadway to the headquarters of the Waiters' union and announced that they wanted to join. Cheers greeted them there, and at a mass meeting later when they declared that they had determined to bring out every hotel chambermaid in the city. In this determination, it is declared, they have been supported by a mysterious "Mrs. Brown," said to be the wife of a wealthy New Orleans banker living on Fifth avenue, who has been actively at work among the maids during the past few days.

A Feature of the day's walkouts was the strike of the 75 waiters in the stock exchange restaurant, where the men are paid $28 a month for about three hours' service a day and get a generous bonus at the year's end.

The Young Man Won Her Hand

WEALTHY ADMIRERS RIVALS FOR NEWSGIRL'S LOVE.

WEDDED AT DANIELSON

Judge Bill Officiates at Culmination of a New York Romance—Attleboro Jewelry Manufacturer the Groom.

(Special to The Bulletin.) Danielson, June 4.—Miss Nan M. Corrigan, age 24, of New York, and Frank M. Bates, age 31, of Attleboro, Mass., were married this evening by Judge Bill. They came here from Providence in a touring car and left immediately afterward for Boston.

Bride Was Newsgirl.

The marriage here is the culmination of a romantic rivalry for the hand of Miss Corrigan, who until a few days ago, has been in charge of a newsstand at the Vanderbilt hotel in New York. The happy suitor, Frank M. Bates of Attleboro, is an oil operator and multimillionaire jewelry manufacturer, with factories in Rhode Island and Massachusetts.

Wealthy Widower Sought Her Hand.

Miss Corrigan, before going to the Vanderbilt hotel, had been in charge of the news stand at the Hotel Belmont, and it was there a wealthy Buffalo widower saw her and fell in love. He begged her to marry him, but she told him there was too much difference in their ages. He did not despair, however, but continued to plead with her whenever he got the chance.

Bates Comes On the Scene.

Young Bates was one of the first persons to register at the Hotel Vanderbilt when it opened in January. When he went over to the news stand to buy a book he was attracted by the pretty girl in charge that he went back as often as propriety permitted to buy other things, until soon her stock was gone. Finally he managed to get a formal introduction. Her hours were from 12 o'clock until noon, and 6 p. m. until midnight.

Two Men Awaited Her.

When she started home that night, her first at the hotel, she found two men waiting to see that she got there safely: one was the Buffalo widower, the other her new admirer, Mr. Bates. Both took her home, she said, roughly. The men glared at each other but calmly accompanied her.

Both Showered Gifts Upon Her.

After that their courtship was somewhat spectacular. The Buffalo man transferred his headquarters to the Vanderbilt, in order to be constantly in the battlefield. Both showered gifts on Miss Corrigan. The Buffalo hotel who were aware of the desperate race between the two men watched with interest for the outcome. The younger man won. After he had proposed and had been accepted the Buffalo man realized at the time of the marriage of the romance attached to the affair. Miss Corrigan and Mr. Bates after telephoning, kept Town Clerk Frank T. Preston waiting until they reached here in their car from Providence, that he might issue them the marriage license.

Bride Wore Glittering Diamonds.

Judge Bill, who married them, a few minutes later, was conveniently waiting in his office. The beautiful diamonds that Mr. Bates had given his bride, and they were magnificent, glittered dazzlingly as the nuptial knot was tied. An automobile is another gift from the groom to the bride. Miss Anna Beegan, a stenographer, friend of the bride, came here with her and was a witness to the ceremony.

Evidently a Change of Plans.

Evidently there was some mixup in the plans for the wedding, as Miss Corrigan announced before she left New York: "We will be married in Attleboro in the afternoon. Frank's cousin will be his best man. All the members of his family will be there."

Bates Married Twice Before.

Frank M. Bates is widely known in New England, where he has been making free use of the fortune of something like a half million left him by his father, Joseph M. Bates, a manufacturing jeweler at Attleboro. He had twice before been married.

Laboring Class In Ugly Mood

WILD DISORDERS FOLLOW THE BELGIAN ELECTIONS.

RIOTING NOW GENERAL

Bitter Disappointment Over Clerical Victory—Civic Guard Indicates That It Sympathizes With the Rioters.

Brussels, June 4.—Belgium is in a state of eruption on account of the recent elections and rioting throughout the country has taken on a revolutionary character. Many persons have been killed or wounded in various cities and a large number of reserves have been called to the colors. The agitation in the industrial districts is rapidly increasing. Every hour brings news of fresh protests by the laboring classes against the governmental victories.

Guard in Sympathy With Rioters.

The conservative elements are considerably alarmed over the tendencies of the civic guard, which corresponds to the American militia, to make common cause with the rioters. This, however, is only in isolated instances. Brussels being a case in point, where the guard today held a sympathetic celebration before the monument of Francisco Ferrer, the originator of the modern school in Spain.

Laboring Classes Greatly Disappointed

The national disorders generally are attributed to the acute disappointment of the laboring classes over the pronounced victory of the clericals in the recent elections. The socialists allied themselves with the liberals on the public school question, but the government policy, hoping thereby to win a majority of the seats in the chamber. Their failure to do so caused a wave of anger to sweep over the country.

Women Worse Than Men.

The latest reports from the provinces show that the strikes have spread over the entire country, and had tied up most of the collieries and the big metal industry. In the center of Belgium many industrial proprietors seem to approve of the strike and sympathize with the men. The women have roused themselves to even greater frenzy than the men in the disorders, which are particularly anti-clerical in character.

Street Car Employees Strike.

In all the collieries of the southeast the Flemish workmen have been boycotted by the Walloons, and hundreds of them have already left the provinces. The street car employees have struck at La Louviere and the municipal employees at Seraing.

Church Desecrated.

Liège tonight has the appearance of a besieged city. Two regiments are under arms, besides police, civic guard and gendarmes. Several clashes occurred between the rioters and the troops. Shots were exchanged but a heavy downpour of rain drove the rioters home. Lancers met and dispersed a column of miners from the southeast in the doors of the Church of St. John and St. Nicholas, and entering, demolished the tabernacle. They then set fire to the doors.
